SPECIAL NOTICE

During the period of the war the AMERICAN NATURALIST was issued bi-monthly. The subscription price of the NATURALIST is lower than the rates for other scientific journals in the same class; it has no subsidy or institutional or society support; it has in no case charged an author for illustrations, tabular matter or alterations in proof.

In view of increasing costs and decreasing receipts caused by the war economy became imperative. This was obtained by issuing the journal bi-monthly, the size of the numbers having been increased from 64 to 96 pages.
